The DIMMER VIEW

Praise the Senate and Pass the Marijuana

Those who worry about the growing use of marijuana by youngsters can now add another — and important — worry to their cares.

On March 20, in Sacramento, 21 state senators voted on a liberalized marijuana law — a law that would let youngsters or anybody — be under the influence of marijuana without severe pentalty possibly no penalty at all.

Of the 40 senators voting, 21 said yes and the liberalization will become law when the assembly considers it. Although the Senate passed it by one vote, it is expected to pass the Assembly with votes to spare.

The bill, authored by Senator George Moscone, will repeal the penalties for being under the influence, possessing paraphernalia, being in a place where marijuana is being used or given away, or furnishing a place where marijuana is being used or given away. That encourages communal pot smoking.

Under the new Senate-approved legislation the law would be changed to provide:

—possession for "personal use" of less than 1 ounce of marijuana (enough for 20 cigarets) would be a misdemeanor, but similar to a traffic violation. There would be a "citation" instead of an arrest, and the maximum penalty would be a $100 fine.

—possession of more than 1 ounce of marijuana would be a "regular" misdemeanor," punishable by a maximum of six months in jail, a fine of $500, or both.

—giving (as opposed to selling) less than 1 ounce of marijuana to another person would result in a misdemeanor citation. with a maximum penalty of a $100 fine.

—penalties for repeated violations of personal use laws would not become harsher.

—in all personal use cases, arrest and conviction records would automatically be destroyed after two years. This would mean that a potential employer, such as a school district, would be unable to learn of previous arrests and convictions.

If there is any good coming from the proposed Bill, it will eliminate police records from some youngsters who now are arrested and jailed for what will now be a simple citation.

And it will smooth the path for those who start on marijuana and wind up on heroin and cocaine.

In 1973 the public voted overwhelmingly to continue the penalties that until now had been the law.

It is a sad commentary that if only one senator had changed his vote the bill would not have passed.

San Diego Senator James R. Mills voted for it.

Other senators to helped pass it were : Ruben Ayala (D-San Bernardino); Peter Behr (D-San Rafael); Anthony Beilenson (D-Los Angeles); Randolph Collier (D-Sonoma etc.); Ralph C. Dills (D-Gardena); John Dunlap (D-Napa); Arlen Gregorio (D-Menlo Park); Nate Holden (D-Los Angeles); Joseph Kennick (D-Long Beach); Milton Marks (R-San Francisco); George Moscone (D-San Francisco); Nicholas Petris (D-Oakland); Robert Presley (D-Riverside); Omer Rains (D-Santa Barbara); David Roberti (D-Hollywood); Albert Rodda (D-Sacramento); Jerry Smith (D-San Jose); Alfred Song (D-Monterey Park); James Wedworth (D-Inglewood) and George Zenovich (D-Fresno). Marks was the only Republican voting for it.

You may want to carry the thought to the next senatorial election.

Retirement Comes on Wings Of Chickens for Mrs. Dunn

by Piret Munger

If Hazel Dunn's husband hadn't gone into chicken ranching thirty years ago in Spring Valley, she might not be looking forward to her retirement from Southern California First National Bank now.

Hazel Dunn

It was her desire to get away from the chickens that prompted Mrs. Dunn to seek a bookkeeping job at the bank in 1946.

Twenty-nine years later, Mrs. Dunn is still on the job, but not for long. On April 1, she will officially retire from her job in accounts control at the bank's La Mesa office.

In fact, the Dunn's, who have lived at 3239 Sweetwater rd. for 25 years, are looking forward to retirement together. Jim Dunn, having abandoned the chickens not long after Mrs. Dunn gave them up, retired from Convair on March 5.

Farewell Banquet

Mrs. Dunn's co-workers treated her to a farewell banquet last week. Her boss and manager of the La Mesa Office of First National, Ken Trent, was master of ceremonies. As her retirement gift, the bank gave her a micro-wave oven.

Mrs. Dunn says that she will miss her work and her First National friends, but she's looking forward to devoting more time to her favorite hobby, painting; getting away to the family mountain retreat near Julian; and taking "one big trip."

She and Jim are trying to decide between Alaska and Scotland-Ireland-Wales. Australia was on their list until Mrs. Dunn discovered that the flight lasts 18 hours.

The Dunns have a daughter and three grandchildren in Kent, Wash. Every year they take their grandchildren camping in the summer and this year they'll have more time than ever to spend together.

...FOOD & JUSTICE FOR ALL

YOU AND YOUR PET

by: Robert L. Stear D.V.M.

Guard Against Parasites

Intestinal parasites such as roundworms, hookworms and tapeworms attack a large percentage of American pets every year. Puppies and kittens are esecially susceptible.

One of the more serious parasitic diseases is coccidiosis. It is caused by tiny protozoa called coccidia. Although too small to be seen by the human eye, these creatures invade the small intestine of young animals and destroy tissue as they multiply.

Poor sanitation is the prime cause of coccidiosis. An unclean, overcrowded and damp environment where animal feces are allowed to ferment can mean serious trouble for young animals. If the feces — particularly the feces of older animals —contain parasite eggs or larvae, and the young animals swallow some of them along with their food and water, they could easily become infected.

The symptoms of coccidosis are frequently confused with those of other intestinal diseases. Chronic diarrhea (often with blood) is the key sign. Besides this, the animal becomes listless, its eyes appear sunken, and it has little appetite. There is usually a great loss of body fluid as well, resulting in dehydration. In more severe cases, the pet may exhibit cold symptoms along with a slight fever. Coccidiosis is quite serious in cattle and sheep and is often fatal in puppies and kittens. Many pets die each year because their owners treat the disease improperly or because proper treatment by a veterinarian is delayed.

There are two basic kinds of parasite control in dogs and cats. One is preventive, the other is treating the disease after it occurs.

Prevention is largely the pet owner's responsibility. This includes establishing and maintaining strict sanitation, carefully supervising food habits, and maintaining adequate control over the animal's whereabouts. Prevention means keeping your pet's quarters clean and maintaining dry runways or washed surfaces such as concrete which are exposed to sunlight. Shaded, moist earthen areas make poor pet quarters, since they encourage parasite breeding — especially during warm weather. By controlling environmental conditions, your pet's infection potential will be reduced considerably.

Medical treatment is the responsibility of your veterinarian so call him immediately if you recognize the warning signs of coccidiosis. Describe the symptoms, and be ready to take your pet in for an examination. In the meantime, keep your pet quiet and comfortable. Above all, don't attempt home cures. Haphazard administering of medicines you happen to have around and think might be useful could worsen the condition. Dosages must be individually determined on the basis of age, weight and general conditions of the animal. The recovery of your pet depends upon how promptly you get it to a veterinarian.

Coliseum Dark Fights Resume Next Week

The Coliseum will be dark this Friday because of Good Friday but a full card will be presented next week.

Last week lightweight Rudy Hernandez of Los Angeles ran his win string to 16 straight by registering a technical knockout over Gene Prado of Vera Cruz. Prado entered the ring with an 8-0 record. The referee stopped the fight at 2:05 of the ninth round in a battle scheduled for ten.

Hernandez had little difficulty in figuring out Prado's style and on this reporter's score card, he didn't take a single round.

It was Hernandez's first main go and he performed just like an old pro, catching much of Prado's effort on gloves and elbows.

Hernandez's popularity will continue to grow now that he stood a main bout test and it is probable that Mickey Davies, Coliseum matchmaker, will use him frequently.

Other Bouts

In other bouts, Seco Luna of Los Angeles won a unanimous decision over Aladio Leal of Cuba in a 5-round bantamweight scrap. The decision was given to Luna in spite of losing a point because of a low blow in the third round.

Alex Cota of San Diego was declared winner over Miguel Ruiz of San Ysidro in a 5-round featherweight fight in what had to be the worst decision of the year. What made it worse, the decision was unanimous. This scoreboard had it 2-0 for Ruiz. Fans were vociferous in their displeasure.

In a 5-round lightweight scrap Alberto Gonzales of Whittier won a split decision over Paul Acevedo of San Diego.

Fights start each Friday at 8:15.

USAC, NASCAR Events Slated For South Bay

The USAC National Championship Midget auto races slated for last Saturday night at the South Bay Park Speedway in Chula Vista have been reset for Friday evening at 8:30 p.m. by Racing Director J. C. Agajanian after rains Saturday morning made the track unraceable.

Agajanian expects the same all-star line-up that he had signed for the original date to be on hand. "Gary Bettenhausen and Jimmy Caruthers, both told me they'd be back on Friday night" said the two-time Indianapolis 500 winning car owner.

NASCAR

NASCAR Modified-Stock Car racing comes to the South Bay track Saturday night with an 8-event racing program topped by a 50-lap feature at the South Bay Park Speedway in Chula Vista.

NASCAR, the leading Stock Car racing association in the World, will bring in a fifty car field for the 8-event program on South Bay's 1/2 mile clay oval. Racing starts at 8 p.m.

A show-down between top NASCAR drivers from Los Angeles and San Bernardino area tracks with the best ECSCRA Super-Stock Car drivers from San Diego Area speedways will highlight the evening's action.

Former ECSCRA champion Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley will head the field. In 1972 McIntyre won six ECSCRA Super-Stock Car features at South Bay, and last year he won a 50-lap NASCAR Open Competition in Late Model Sportsman event on the same track. He'll pit his Chevrolet Camero against the invading field.

Gates open at 6 p.m., with practice runs at 7 p.m. and the first of 8 races at 8:30 p.m.

Have you ever left a baseball game wondering if the relief pitcher would get credit for a save?

We're going to tell you how to recognize a "saved" game—together with some background material.

The situation is complicated because relief pitchers in the majors will be working under a completely new system for getting credit for a save.

The save rule has actually been one of the most discussed standards in past seasons as the 1973 rule was deemed to be too lenient. In fact, that season John Hiller of the Detroit Tigers set the major league record with 38 saves, a mark which may never be broken due to changes in the rule.

For instance, last season's leader in the majors was Terry Forster of the Chicago White Sox who amassed only 24, far short of Hiller's runaway 1973 mark. Even with all the work on the part of Mike Marshall, the Los Angeles Dodgers ace still finished with only 21 saves.

Writers Change Rules

After a revision for 1974, things still didn't work out as it was felt that there still was a better way to handle the matter. After a rather lengthy, drawnout discussion by the Baseball Writers last December in New Orleans it was decided to change the rule again for the 1975 campaign.

"I guess the new rule is about as fair as it's ever going to be," commented newly acquired relief specialist Danny Frisella. "The way it is worded now it pretty well takes everything in account. Yet, I really much prefer the old rule where you got the save if you faced either the tying or winning run."

Frisella was 3-4 with six saves for the Atlanta Braves last season and was ranked high in the National League in effectiveness based on wins and saves.

"I'm confident of a much better season this year regardless of any changes in the save rule," Frisella said.

Could Help Frisella

"I feel like I am able to fit into the Padres plans much more so than with the Braves. This should mean more work for me and I fully expect to finish with a better won-lost record, ERA and more saves.

"My arm feels in great shape and I'm looking forward to my first real full season of activity since 1973," stated the veteran righthander.

As for his ideas on the save rule, Frisella is quick to point out that he's indeed given the matter some thought.

"When I was with the New York Mets Tug McGraw and I worked out our own system to show how effective we were in relief," explained the 29-year-old Frisella. "It's a little hard to explain in a few words, but the gist of the plan is that you receive so many plus or minus points based on what existing men on base and the first batter you face do against you. "For example, if you come in with the bases loaded and two outs and retire the batter, you get credit for four points. However, if two of the men score off you, then you receive only two points and so on down the line."

The Rule

For the record, though, here's how the save rule will shape up for the 1975 season, according to the official scoring rules:

"A pitcher may be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. He enters the game with a lead of not more than three runs and pitches at least one inning, or
   b. He entern the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
   c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings"

Additionally, it is not mandatory to credit a save and only one per game may be awarded by the official scorer.

Lacroix, Conner Need More Trophy Case Room

If they continue to collect awards at their present pace, San Diego Mariner centerman Andre Lacroix and yachtsman Dennis Conner will be faced with the problem of enlarging their trophy cases.

Already the recipients of many honors for exceptional performances in their respective sports, the two popular athletes have been accorded new recognition by being named February Stars of the Month by the San Diego Hall of Champions Breitbard Awards Committee.

The two men were acclaimed at the annual Banquet of Champions last week when Lacroix was lauded for having been named a Star of the Month in December and Conner accepted a trophy as 1974's amateur Star of the Year for having served as starting helmsman and tactician for the U. S. yacht Courageous in her successful defense of the America's Cup against the challenge of Australia's Southern Cross.

Scoring Streak

In its latest action the Hall of Champions gave the nod to Lacroix among the pro nominees for continuing his sensational World Hockey Assn. scoring streak which actually began in early January. By the end of February he had broken the existing WHA record of 16 games, extended it to 25 games and had become the first player to reach the 100-mark during the current season.

Meanwhile, Conner, representing the San Diego Yacht Club, distinguished himself by capturing the prestigious six-race Southern Ocean Racing Conference while overwhelming his opposition in the Florida World Series of yachting.

In doing so, he sailed his San Diego-built Peterson 35 Stinger to nearly a 10-point decision over the second-place finisher.

$10,000 Trot Tops Alamitos Card

LOS ALAMITOS — The $10,000 Bi Shively Memorial Trot and the $10,000 Directors' Cup Pace will highlight the weekend's harness activity at Los Alamitos as the Southern California Racing Assn. presents another six nights of the current 55-night meeting that runs through May 3.

The Bi Shively Trot figures to bring out many of the top trotters on the West Coast on Friday night, including the first appearance of the year of Jack Williams' South Bend.

South Bend was expected to make his first start of the year earlier in the meeting but had his training schedule hampered due to foot ailments and the rain, according to Williams. The speedy trotter has earned more than $170,000 during his racing career and had a top mark of 1:59 turned in at Hollywood Park last fall.

South Bend finished second back of Arnie Almahurst in the $50,000 Leland Stanford Stakes in 1973 and just last year was fourth to Savoir in the $100,000 American Trotting Classic.

MONY Tourney To Introduce 10 New Pros

CARLSBAD — This is the year of the Rabbit on the Chinese calendar.

It's also the year of the golfing rabbit in the $200,000 MONY (Mutual of New York) Tournament of Champions.

Tournament chairman Allard Roen said 10 pros will make their debuts in the MONY T-of-C April 24-27 at the La Costa Country Club. Record for first-time players is 11 in 1969.

Newcomers include local favorite Victor Regalado of Tijuana and San Diego, former Standford star Tom Watson, Forrest Fezler, Rod Curl, Pat Fitzsimons, Gary Groh, Richie Karl, Bob Menne, Allen Miller and Terry Diehl.

Experts say the toughest tournament to win is the first one. The above will agree. Two won after sudden-death playoffs, six won by a single stroke and one by two strokes. Only Fitzsimons had a laugher, winning the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open by four shots.

Winners

Their victories came on some formidable courses, too. Curl won the Colonial National on the tough Colonial track, Menne the Kemper Open on Quail Hollow CC, Watson the Western Open on Butler National (3-OVER par), Regalado the Pleasant Valley Classic on Pleasant Valley CC and Fitzsimons on storied Riviera CC.

The rookies' problems will begin anew when they tee it up in this elite event only for winners of major events since the last MONY T-of-C.

They'll be confronted with the best shotmakers on the planet, including defending champion Johnny Miller, Jack Nicklaus, Gene Littler, PGA champ Lee Trevino, Masters and British Open champion Gary Player, U. S. Open winner Hale Irwin, Dave Stockton, Al Geiberger, Buddy Allin, Dave Hill, Hubert Greene, Jim Colbert, Bobby Nichols, Miller Barber, J. C. Snead, Bob Murphy and Ed Sneed.

Mission Bay Crew Classic Set For April

Oarsmen from across the country will meet on Mission Bay on Saturday, April 5, for the third annual San Diego Crew Classic. The regatta marks the opening of the crew racing season for 1975 and will attract the top collegiate rowing crews in the United States. All racing is done in classic lightweight wooden shells.

The return of the Washington U. crewing team, which has swept the Western Sprints and the Crew Classic for the past two years, will spark keen competition between coaches acclaimed both nationally and internationally.

Feature races include Varsity 8, Women's Doubles, J.V. 8, Frosh 8, Fours and Singles. The Varsity 8 heat and elimination races will begin at 8 a.m. April 5, on Mission Bay, with final events scheduled for 11 a.m. The Varsity 8, generally considered the climax of any crew regatta, will be at noon.

The starting point will be the north end of Sail Bay, in Mission Bay. The finish line will be off Bahia Point, between Vacation Village and the Bahia Hotel. The 2000 meter races run from six to eight minutes. An awards presentation at the end of the regatta will be on the lawns at Bahia Point. Gold and silver medals will be awarded to the first and second place teams.

The Union-Tribune D.C.C Perpetual Trophy will be at stake in the final Varsity event.

Last year an estimated 15,000 spectators turned out for this exciting meeting of strength and endurance.

The San Diego Crew Classic is supported entirely by private citizen contributions and jointly by the San Diego Rowing Club and the ZLAC Rowing Club.

The fight game really ain't what it used to be. Time was a fighter was tough and hard and mean clear through. Except outside the ring.

Somewhere along the line everything turned upside down. Looking back, one is reminded things changed about the time Rocky Marciano hung 'em up. He left a void in the fight picture that took a long time to get filled. Trouble is, some folks are just now finding it out.

Rocky was the last fighter to hold the heavy title until Cassius Muhammad Rubber-lip came along and proved he could fight as well as he could mouth off. And therein lies the story.

A studied examination of Clay's verbiage indicates shrewdness. Remember, he came along after boxing died. When he arrived, there was nothing left.

It all happened in the middle 50's. Marciano retired and Floyd Patterson pretended to the title. His career was guided so carefully he once faced Pete Rademacher, then an amateur, in the only novice heavyweight title fight in history.

Later Floyd and Ingemar Johanson traded the heavy crown back and forth in place of having a real world champion, then Sonny Liston muscled his way into the bleakness and nobody even noticed . . . or cared.

"Box-fighting," everybody agreed, "was stone cold dead and buried deep."

But along came Clay, who later became Ali. He figured out, somewhere along the line, that if he got large amounts of the white population angered at him, they would pay large amounts of money to see him take the beating he never intended to take.

He thumbed his nose at convention, became Muhammad Ali, and listed himself as the first "Great Black Hope." He used racism as an effective tool. He even got away with calling black contenders "white hopes."

He combined "show Biz" with tremendous talent and almost single-handedly revived boxing from the grave.

Oh, he made lots of money. But he also lit a fire under a thing called "Black Pride," and helped lead it into respectability in a maturing America.

It took him a long time to bring it about. And he made mistakes, some of which he will not recognize. His methods even cost him his title, back-a-ways. It wasn't easy. But then, being a God never is.

And that's what he was (and is) to Blacks the world over. The poor, the hungry, the unclothed, the uneducated. They find their pride in him. He endured and overcame.

And he took his title back. He whopped Joe Frazier, George Foreman and a bunch of supernumeraries that would pretend to his crown. (Only Ken Norton, under the knowledgeable hand of Eddie Futch, proved equal to Ali's ability. And Norton's backers indicated their level of ability by getting rid of Futch).

Ali did it. He came back a long way, baby. Even earning a red carpet visit to the White House and chit-chat with President Jerry Ford.

All that and he's still listed ninth by Ring Magazine on the all time great heavyweight roster.

Joe Louis heads Ring's list, followed by Jack Dempsey, Jim Jeffries, Jack Johnson, Rocky Marciano, Gene Tunny, Bob Fitzsimmons and Gentleman Jim Corbett. Only Joe Frazier follows Ali.

And that's a crock. Except for Jack Johnson, who might have been as good as Ali says he is, and maybe Marciano on a good night, or Louis on the night he slaughtered Max Schmeling, there ain't never been a better heavyweight.

And looking at the Big Picture, there ain't never been a guy that did more for boxing, than Muhammad, the guy that used to be Cassius Clay.

And it's getting time, somebody besides Ali, looked at him that way.

Tennis Complex Opens At S.D. Country Estates

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES — The San Vicente Racquet Club, a $1.5 million tennis complex at San Diego Country Estates, opens this week with play and instruction on 10 of the clubs 20 courts.

The clubhouse will open May 1.

The planned community, 38 miles northeast of San Diego near Ramona, was the site of the historic tennis match between Bobby Riggs and Margaret Court on Mothers Day, 1973.

Instruction will be the key word at San Diego's newest major tennis facility.

We have a complete tennis education center," says Gene Templeton, director of Tennis Services, U.S.A., which will operate the club.

"Very few tennis clubs have given as much thought to instructional facilities," says Templeton, head tennis coach at San Diego State University. "For most, it is an afterthought."

The Racquet Club will have classrooms in the clubhouse, as well as a classroom adjacent to the courts.

Austin Named Pro

Dave Austin, former tennis star at San Diego State, will be the club's first head tennis professional.

The 23-year old Austin has had experience as a head tennis pro both on the east coast and in the San Diego area.

Austin has degrees in psychology and physical education and was a three-year star on the Aztec's net squad under Templeton.

Locker Burglarized

Robert F. Sprague, 17, a student at Monte Vista High school, told sheriff's deputies that someone opened his locked locker in the swim team locker room and took a diver's watch, a high school ring and his wallet which contained $4.

He was gone only 1½ hours he said. When he returned his valuables valued at $209 were missing.

Little League Summer Camp Opens in July

With the Little League season almost at hand, Western Regional Headquarters in San Bernardino, has announced its third annual Summer Camp Program.

Two-week camp sessions are scheduled starting July 6 and July 20.

Open to boys 10 to 12 years of age, whether or not affiliated with a Little League team, the Summer Camp at San Bernardino provides a variety of recreation with the emphasis on fundamentals of baseball. Camp games are played on the Western Regional Championship field where, in August, Little League State Champions from the 13 Western States meet to determine the Western Regional representative in the World Series.

In addition to a well-rounded baseball program, boys attending the camp participate in swimming, basketball, volleyball, table tennis and other recreational activities.

Camp sessions are supervised by experienced instructors and counselors selected for their ability to work with and understand boys of Little League age.

Campers live in air-conditioned dormitory units adjacent to the Little League Stadium and enjoy nourishing meals prepared by school cafeteria-trained personnel. Day campers are accepted.

Boys of parents interested can obtain information and applications by writing to: Little League Summer Camp, 6707 Little League dr., San Bernardino, CA 92407.

USD's Brovelli Is Picking Up the Pieces

The return of a strong nucleus of underclassmen is the main comfort to University of San Diego basketball coach Jim Brovelli as he begins to pick up the pieces of the Toreros' 11-15 won-lost 1974-75 season.

The record was Brovelli's first losing year in eight terms as a head coach and USD's lowest percentage finish since a 10-14 reading in 1970-71.

Brovelli, completing his second year as USD's mentor, loses his first three scorers and his recruiting must turn up at least two forwards and a playmaking guard as he looks to next season.

Concluding their eligibility were 6-9 center Neil Traub, 358 points and a 13.8 average, 6-8 forward Allan Jones, 314 points and a 12.1 average, and 6-0 guard Joe DeMaestri, 304 and 11.7. In addition to finishing 1-2 in point making, Traub and Jones were also the top rebounders with 251 and 201 counts, respectively.

Brovelli will build his 1975-76 front line around 6-4 junior forward-guard Ken Smith, 283 and 10.9 with 129 rebounds, 6-7 freshman forward Richard Harnett, 142 and 5.5, 6-5 junior forward Paul Meade, 111 and 4.4, and 6-7 frosh forward-center Greg Severs, 35 and 1.9. His leading guard returnees are 6-foot junior Jim Ferguson, 123 and 5.1, and 5-11 frosh Mike Strode, 46 and 3.1.

Highlight of the past season was the winning of the University of San Diego Invitational Tournament in December.

Syracuse-Kentucky, Louisville-UCLA Open Try For NCAA Title Saturday

Moving into this week's finals in San Diego's International Sports Arena are the regional champions, the Syracuse Orangemen of the East and Kentucky Wildcats of the Mideast, the Louisville Cardinals of the Midwest and the UCLA Bruins of the West.

On Saturday, the opening semi-final game pits Syracuse vs. Kentucky at 12:10 p.m., with Louisville going against UCLA at 2:10 p.m., in the second game of the doubleheader.

Then on Monday, the winners battle at 6:10 p.m., for the coveted crown of this 37th annual NCAA tourney dating back to 1939. Saturday's losers tangle at 3:35 p.m. for third place honors.

Past Champs

All four teams at San Diego have been in the running before but only UCLA and Kentucky are past champions. In fact, the Bruins and Wildcats have won it the most of any teams, the former nine times (1964 - 65 - 67-68-69-70-71-72-73) and the latter four times (1948-49-51-58).

Kentucky is in its 22nd NCAA tournament but only in its seventh "round-of-four." UCLA is making its 16th tourney appearance—and its ninth straight trip to the finals, its 11th in the last 12 years and its 12th in history.

But the Bruins' overall NCAA record under coach Wooden is just unbelievable, to wit: nine titles in past 11 years, 43 victories in their last 44 tournament games and 45 wins to only 10 losses in their tourney total of 55 games for an incredible .819 winning percentage.

As for Louisville and Syracuse, the Cardinals are in their ninth NCAA tournament but only the third time in the finals and the Orangemen are in their fifth tourney but the first time in the finals.

The San Diego Questions

There's lots of drama coming up at San Diego. Can UCLA regain the title it lost last year to North Carolina State?

Can Kentucky return to the pinnacle of collegiate basketball, a position they held in the 1940's and '50's under the Baron, Adolph Rupp?

Can Louisville, one of the country"s up-and-coming powers under former UCLA guard and Bruin assistant coach Denny Crum, reach the top? And can unsung Syracuse continue to surprise?

After two unimpressive tourney victories over Michigan and Montana, the Bruins returned to top form in their 89-75 victory over highly-regarded Arizona State in the West Regional finals last Saturday.

Here are coach Wooden's observations on a Monday morning following the Bruins' triumph in Portland: "After our somewhat lackluster performance against Montana, although they did play a very fine game against us, I was most pleased with our all-around play in the West Regional championship game.

"Almost every player contributed in his own special way, Marques Johnson had a superlative game, Pete Trogovich controlled their great Lionel Hollins (All-America guard) until we had the game won, Andre McCarter was most instrumental in breaking their feared press, Richard Washington again shot well and hit when we needed a basket, Ralph Drollinger came in off the bench and made an outstanding contribution and David Meyers, despite his nagging and painful injuries, got some key points and some extremely important rebounds.

"It was truly a team victory with our intensity on defense, patience on offense and superb rebounding all helping to make it one of our better performances."

"What about San Diego? Now that we are in the final four, our play will have to be of the same caliber if we are to come home from San Diego with the championship.

"Any one of the remaining teams is quite capable of beating any other and all have shown that they are also vulnerable to defeat."

Writers Fete Tolan April 8

Bobby Tolan, whose value was most noted when he missed 50 games for knee surgery last season, has been named to the San Diego Padre of the year.

The choice of Tolan was made by the San Diego Chapter of the Baseball Writers' Assn.

Joining Tolan in being honored for his 1974 efforts will be righthanded pitcher Dave Freisleben, picked as rookie of the year.

The two players will be rewarded at the April 7th Padre Preview banquet at the Town & Country Convention Center.

Tolan hit .260 in the 95 games in which he played, but the Padres managed to win only 11 games during his absence. Freisleben compiled a 9-14 record after being advanced from Hawaii early in the season.

Tickets for the public banquet are $20 and can be obtained by calling Bea Barnes at the Padre office — 283-4494.

The 1975 Padres will be presented at the dinner by their manager, John McNamara. San Francisco manager Wes Westrum will discuss the season's opening series between the Giants and Padres which starts at 7 p.m., April 8th, at San Diego Stadium.

NBC announced, Charlie Jones, will serve again as master of ceremonies at the dinner.

Optional prelims start at 10 a.m. Friday and continue all day.

The event is hosted by the SDSU Physical Education Department and the GymAztecs Parents Club.

Gardena Hosts NASCAR Event

GARDENA — Ascot officials hope the third time is the charm in their effort to start the Winston point season for NASCAR late-model sportsman stock cars Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Rain washed out the original opener, February 9, and wet grounds forced the postponement of the next race, March 16. The latter event came at the end of the 10-day rain cycle.

Most top drivers in Southern California and Nevada had expected to compete in the latter event, including Jimmy Insolo of Mission Hills and George Follmer of Huntington Harbor.

Insolo and Follmer started in the front row at the Permatex 200 at Riverside in January, with pole-sitter Insolo eventually winning that big one in a duel with Bobby Allison.

Insolo performs particularly well on dirt. He won the last Winston Grand National West late-model race at Ascot last September to clinch third place in that division. Follmer is better known for his sports-car driving, having won both the Trans-AM and Can-Am championships in 1972.

E.S.D. Mini Park

The San Diego City Council has approved the expenditure of $4,900 for landscaping of the 28th street mini-park.

The construction, to be done by city work forces, will provide for the installation of lawn, irrigation system, drinking fountain, mow strip, and picnic tables at the unimproved portion of the mini-park, according to Councilman Leon Williams. Annual maintenance of the park is expected to cost $400.

Australia is about 4 times the size of Texas.

Industrial Park Planned for ESD

The San Diego City Council has voted to exercise its option to purchase property at 41st and Market sts. as the first step toward development of the 18 acres as an industrial park.

Fourth District Councilman Leon L. Williams said the action will bind the City to use the land for a "high quality industrial and commercial park for medium and light industries," or other compatible uses.

The Council also authorized the expenditures of up to $177,300 from Model Cities Funds to purchase the property from Greenwood Memorial Park.

The City earlier made a $5,400 deposit on the property toward the $180,000 purchase price, plus approximately $2,200 in appraisal and escrow fees.

Revitalization

Williams said, "This is the first of several City projects within Southeast San Diego which will help revitalize the area and provide jobs."

He stressed that the 41st and Market site is restricted to light and medium industrial use.

"There is no plan to allow polluting industries into the park area," he said.

While the City begins to develop the 41st and Market site Williams said, plans to develop the Wabash Corridor as a major industrial site are also progressing. It will be called the Dells Industrial Park.

More Fuel Used

January marked the second month in a row in which gasoline distribution figures increased over the same period a year ago, the State Board of Equalization reported. Declines had been recorded for every month in 1974 until December.

Guess Who?

MYSTERY MERCHANT NO. 25 — If the person in the above photo looks familiar to you, you could be a prize winner. She, like all previous mystery merchants, operates her business somewhere in the central Lemon Grove shopping district. She will award a prize to the first person to bring a copy of the newspaper to her place of business and correctly identify her. Nick Farella, owner of Lido's Italian Foods, 7252 Broadway, awarded two free dinners to two young women who were first to identify him last week. However, Nick failed to identify the two women. Low-Cost Life Insurance Available to Viet Vets

An estimated 2.7 million Vietnam Era veterans separated from April 2, 1970 through July 31, 1974, are eligible for new low-cost Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI), but they must apply before August 1. The new program is designed as interim protection during readjustment to civilian life, according to the Veterans Administration.

Servicemen discharged since August 1 receive application forms automatically, but those discharged before the insurance became available must apply, VA said.

Nonrenewable, five-year term coverage is available in $5,000 increments up to $20,000. Monthly premium for the maximum coverage is $3.40 for veterans aged 34 and under and $6.80 for those 35 and over.

Application forms are available at local VA offices.

Death Rate Decline Is 1st in 31 Years

California's mileage death rate, a measure of traffic fatalities in relation to exposure, dropped to 3.2 in 1974, Highway Patrol Commissioner Dan Lanza reported.

The rate measures deaths per 100 million miles of travel, and was based on annual mileage of 127.2 billion, about 5½ billion fewer miles than 1973. This was the first time in 31 years that California vehicle mileage has dropped.

Tracking Down VD Is This Agent's Job

His job is to search for people. When he finds the person for whom he is searching, he helps them by bringing them bad news.

The nature of his work requires he keep his identity a secret. His resourcefulness and imagination help him find you and protect you from inquisitive friends and relatives.

His name is Roy (fictitious name) and he is a communicable disease investigator for the County of San Diego Department of Public Health. Roy works with eight other investigators to combat the epidemic rate of venereal disease in the County.

Given a hypothetical case, this is how Roy works.

Tom is examined by a doctor at a free clinic, told he has gonorrhea and given his first treatment. Roy is assigned to investigate Tom's case.

Once he has located Tom, where they can talk alone, Roy's first task is to educate Tom about the serious consequences of untreated gonorrhea so Tom will return to the clinic for follow-up treatment.

"Everything we discuss is strictly confidential and I will not betray that confidence to anyone," said Roy.

Next, the investigation centers around two objectives: finding out who could have given the disease to Tom, and if Tom has unknowningly infected anyone else.

To accomplish this, Tom is asked to provide the names, addresses, phone numbers, and a physical description of all his recent sexual partners.

"Many people are hesitant to name their contacts," said Roy. "They are embarassed and sometimes afraid to admit they have been involved in something like premarital affairs, extra-marital affairs, incest or homosexual relationships.

"But my job is not to embarass or pass judgement on ayone's sexual relationships. I just try to help people receive proper medical treatment," Roy said.

Once Roy is certain he has acquired all the names of Tom's recent sexual contacts, Tom's name becomes a number and the contact information is turned over to another investigator, as a precaugonorrhea. Tom's sexual con-

This second investigator has the job of finding and informing Tom's sexual partners that they have been exposed to gonorrhea. Toms sexual contacts are not told from whom they may have acquired the disease, because in fact, the investigtaor only knows Tom as a number without a name.

1,840 Treated

To help protect Tom from suspicion, the investigator will not tell Tom's contacts how long ago they were exposed to the infection.

As a result of VD investigations, 2,100 people in San Diego County were examined last year. These people were known to have been exposed to VD. Out of these, 1,840 people were treated.

"I think people should be aware that next to the common cold, VD is the most prevelant communicable disease in our society and strikes at least two persons every minute," said Roy.

Many Unreported Cases

Some 5,780 cases of gonorrhea were reported last year in the County, but Health Department officials estimate the actual figure was closer to 20,000 cases.

The rate of reported syphilis cases is much lower but the damage it can cause is likely to be more devastating than gonorrhea, according to Roy.

Long term untreated syphilis can lead to heart disease, brain damage, blindess, or bone destruction. Untreated gonorrhea is likely to cause sterility but can at times cause life-threatening disease.

Frightening statistics indicate that one out of every five high school students will contract VD before graduation from high school.

"Many kids are afraid to come forward for treatment because they think we will tell their parents," said Roy. "We don't tell anybody about anybody else, and that applies to children and parents too."

In California everyone 12 years of age and older is assured complete confidentiality by specific state law.

"All our VD case files are so highly confidential they cannot even be subpoenaed by the courts," said Roy.

Do's and Don't's

Roy offered some do's and don't's for people who suspect they have VD but are afraid to come forward.

If you are even slightly suspicious of having VD, or of having been exposed to VD, take immediate action and go to your doctor, a free clinic, or the County Department of Public Health and specifically request an examination for gonorrhea or syphilis.

Do not assume a blood test given for something else will detect syphilis. It will not. A specific blood test called a VDRL must be taken to diagnose syphilis.

Where women are concerned, pap smears detect cancer, but not VD. A special culture must be taken to uncover evidence of gonorrhea. In addition, birth control pills may prevent pregnancy, but they do not prevent VD.

Do not treat yourself for VD by taking penicillin or other antibiotics you may have at home. It takes a specific dosage of an appropriate antibiotic over a specific period of time to cure the disease. People who treat themselves are just asking for more grief. The wrong dosage of an antibiotic may eliminate the symptoms but not the infectious germs.

Symptoms are not always present when one is infected with VD. So if you suspect VD, seek an examination, Roy advises.

Roy warns pregnant women to be especially careful. Stillborn and deformed children can be the cruel consequences of undetected syphilis.

"The belief that nice people don't get syphilis or gonorrhea is just not true, just as the myth that VD is confined to swinging singles, sailors and the ghetto is false. VD strikes the young and the old, the rich and the poor, the married and the unmarried," said Roy.

The County Depatment of Public Health operates seven VD clinics. Patients are treated free of charge.

The clinics are located as follows: Primary Health Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego; El Cajon Health Center, 113 E. Douglas ave., El Cajon; Southeast San Diego Health Center, 3177 Oceanview blvd., San Diego; North San Diego Health Center, 2440 Grand ave., San Diego; East San Diego Health Center, 52nd and University aves., San Diego; and South Bay Health Clinic, 263 Fig ave., Chula Vista.

If you need help, call the center closest to you for the hours of its VD clinic.

IRS TAX ANSWERS

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. What is the reason for my indicating the county where I live on my tax return?

A. Under a law known as Revenue Sharing, a portion of the tax money collected by the Federal Government is returned to the states and cities. The amount of money your locality receives is based on information you supply on your Federal income tax return. So it's important for you to fill in the County of Residence block on the front of your return. To complete this block, print or type the full name of the county (parish in Louisiana; organized borough in Alaska) in which you live. The instructions for both 1040 and 1040A forms explain how to fill in the block if you don't live in a county, parish or borough.

Q. What is the rate for exemptions for myself and my family this year?

A. The personal exemption for 1974 is $750. If you file a joint return, you may also claim a $750 exemption for your spouse. Exemptions of the same amount for age and blindness are available for both of you if you qualify. Furthermore, you are entitled to an exemption of $750 for each person who qualified in 1974 as your dependent. For more information on exemptions and dependents, consult IRS Publication 501, "Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents." It's available free at all IRS offices.

Q. My 1973 tax return was more complicated than usual to fill out, so I decided to use a return preparer. Can I deduct the charges that I paid in 1974 for preparation of my 1973 return?

A. Yes. The cost of tax counsel and assistance is a deductible expense, and is reported on Schedule A of Form 1040 as a miscellaneous expense.

Q. I'm a member of the Armed Forces, and am transferring to a new assignment in the Orient. I have received an allowance for the transfer. Is this money taxable?

A. It depends on the reason for the allowance. If it is a dislocation allowance paid upon transfer from one post of duty to another it is taxable. But if it is a housing and cost-of-living allowance or a family separation allowance, it is excludable from your gross income.

Bridge Screens to be Installed on Rt. 94

The California Department of Transportation has announced a $29,000 project for a stretch of Route 94 in Lemon Grove. The project involves the installation of protective screening on various overcrossings on the freeway between 22nd st. in San Diego and Grove st. in Lemon Grove.

The project, which was called for bids last week, also includes the overpass at Mariposa st. and Route 125 in La Mesa.

The average American now eats one of every three meals away from home.

or at the office of any paying agent of the district in Chicago, Illinois, or New York, New York, at the option of the holder.

REGISTRATION: The bonds will be coupon bonds registrable only as to both principal and interest, and the bonds may be discharged from registration, in accordance with the provisions in the resolution providing for the issuance of the bonds.

REDEMPTION: The bonds maturing on or prior to April 1, 1990, shall not be subject to call or redemption prior to maturity. The bonds maturing on or after April 1, 1991, or any of them, may be called before maturity and redeemed at the option of the Board of Directors of the district on April 1, 1990, or on any interest payment date thereafter prior to maturity, at a redemption price for each redeemable bond equal to the principal amount thereof, plus a premium of 1/2 of 1% of said principal amount for each year or fraction of a year between the redemption date and the maturity date, but not to exceed 5% of said principal amount.

All or any of the bonds subject to call may be called for redemption at any one time. If less than all of the bonds are redeemed at any one time, such bonds shall be redeemed only in inverse order of maturity and by lot within a maturity.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The bonds are the first series of an issue of $11,000,000 water revenue bonds authorized at an election on November 5, 1974, for the acquisition, construction and financing of facilities for the treatment, storage, transmission and distribution of water for the district's customers.

SECURITY: Said bonds are issued pursuant to the Revenue Bond Law of 1941, Section 54300 et seq. of the Government Code, and are equally secured by a pledge, charge and lien upon the net revenues of the water system of the district. The principal of and interest on the bonds and any premiums upon the redemption of any thereof prior to maturity are not a debt of the district, nor a legal or equitable pledge, charge, lien or encumbrance upon any of its property or upon any of its income receipts, or revenues, except the net revenues of the water system. The general fund of the district is not liable for the payment of the bonds or their interest, nor is the credit or the taxing power of the district pledged. The holder of the bonds or the interest coupons shall not compel the exercise of the taxing power of the district or the forfeiture of any of its property.

LEGAL INVESTMENT : Said bonds shall, before the delivery thereof, be certified for investment under and pursuant to the provisions of the Districts Securities Law, Division 10 of the Water Code. However, notwithstanding such certification, in the opinion of bond counsel, the eligibility of said bonds for the investment of funds of commercial or savings banks, as such, is subject to the provisions of the Financial Code of the State of California, and a statement to that effect shall be printed on each bond beneath the certification. Under the conditions specified in Section 1372 of the Financial Code, said bonds may be eligible for the investment of funds of persons, corporations, or agencies, other than savings banks, where the law relating to the funds of such persons, corporations, or agencies authorizes or requires investment of said funds in securities in which savings banks are authorized to invest their funds.

TERMS OF SALE

Interest Rate: The maximum rate bid may not exceed 8% per annum, payable seminanually on April 1 and October 1 of each year. Each rate bid must be a multiple of 1/20 of 1%. No bond shall bear more than one interest rate, and all bonds of the same maturity shall bear the same rate. Each bond must bear interest at the rate specified in the bid from its date to its fixed maturity date. Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. The rate on any maturity or group of maturities shall not be more than 2% higher than the interest rate on any other maturity or group of maturities.

Award: The bonds shall be sold for cash only. All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale and each bid shall state that the bidder offers par and accrued interest to the date of delivery, the premium, if any, and the interest rate or rates not to exceed that specified herein, at which the bidder offers to buy said bonds. Each bidder shall state in his bid the total net interest cost in dollars and the average net interest rate determined thereby, which shall be considered informative only and not a part of the bid.

Highest Bidder: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the district would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery, computed on a 360-day year basis. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

Right of Rejection: The district reserves the right, in its discretion, to reject any and all bids and to the extent not prohibited by law to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

Prompt Award: The district will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than twenty-six (26) hours after the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals; provided that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given to said Board notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

Place of Delivery; Federal Funds: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at Jeffries Banknote Company, 1330 West Pico Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, or at such other place as may be agreed upon by the purchaser and the Treasurer of the district. Payment for the bonds shall be in Federal Reserve Bank funds or other immediately available funds.

Prompt Delivery; Cancellation for Late Delivery: It is expected that said bonds will be delivered to the successful bidder within 30 days from the date of sale hereof. The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the district shall fail to execute the bonds and tender them for delivery within 60 days from the date herein fixed for the receipt of bids, and in such event the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the check accompanying his bid.

Form of Bid: Each bid, together with the bid check, must be in a sealed envelope, addressed to the district with the envelope and bid clearly marked "Proposal for Water Revenue Bonds."

Bid Check: A certified or cashier's check on a responsible bank or trust company in the amount of $80,000 payable to the order of the district must accompany each bid as a guaranty that the bidder, if successful, will accept and pay for said bonds in accordance with the terms of his bid. The check accompanying any accepted bid shall be applied on the purchase price or, if such bid is accepted but not performed, unless such failure of performance shall be caused by any act or omission of the district, shall then be cashed and the proceeds retained by the district. The check accompanying each unaccepted bid will be returned promptly.

Change in Tax Exempt Status: At any time before the bonds are tendered for delivery, the successful bidder may disaffirm and withdraw the bid if the interest received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable income under present federal income tax laws, either by a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service or by a decision of any federal court, or shall be declared taxable or be required to be taken into account in computing any federal income taxes, by the terms of any federal income tax law enacted subsequent to the date of this notice.

Legal Opinion: The unqualified opinion of O'Melveny & Myers, attorneys, approving the validity of the bonds will be furnished the successful bidder at or prior to the time of delivery of the bonds, at the expense of the district. A copy of such opinion, certified by an officer of the district by his facsmile signature, will be printed on the back of each bond. No charge will be made to the purchaser for such printing or certification.

The unqualified opinion of said attorneys that interest on the bonds is exempt from income taxes of the United States of America under present federal income tax laws, and that such interest is also exempt from personal income taxes of the State of California under present state income tax laws, will also be furnished the successful bidder at or prior to the time of delivery of the bonds, at the expense of the district.

CUSIP Numbers: CUSIP numbers have been applied for and will be printed on the bonds at the district's expense. Neither the absence of CUSIP numbers nor the presence of an incorrect number on any or all of the bonds shall constitute reason for the purchaser thereof to refuse to accept delivery.

No Litigation Certificate: At the time of payment for and delivery of said bonds, the district will furnish the successful bidder a certificate that there is no litigation pending affecting the validity of the bonds.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE: For further information respecting the terms and conditions of the bonds, bidders are referred to the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds and to the Official Statement which the district has caused to be prepared. Copies of this notice inviting bids and copies of said resolution and Official Statement may be obtained from the district's financial consultant, California Municipal Statistics, Inc., 244 Kearny, San Francisco, California 94108.

Humane Society Nixes Easter Pets for Kids

The County Humane Society has spoken out against the sale of live chicks, rabbits, or ducklings to be used as Easter presents to children.

Mome than half of the creatures die within a couple of weeks, according to Captain Bill Virden, State Humane Officer of the county. Many children do not understand what their new pets need to stay alive and healthy, according to Virden. The child may even be too young to understand that the animal is a living creature and not just a new toy. Mishandling by children, rough playing and improper housing are the main reasons these Easter pets die or become ill, he said.

Section 599 of the Penal Code of the State of California makes it a misdemeanor to sell or give away a live chick, rabbit or duckling or other fowl as a prize for, or as an inducement to enter, any contest, game or other competition or as an inducement to enter a place of amusement or place of business.

The law, Virden points out, does not apply to stores regularly engaged in the business of selling these animals nor to established hatchery management procedures. Prior to 1967, thousands of chicks and ducklings were mass hatched by commercial firms in the East and transported throughout the United States, according to the Humane Society. It was not uncommon that half of the fowl arrived at their destination near death or dead, they report.

The Humane Society urges consumers to report to the Society stores and other business firms who feature these animals as Easter pets. They also strongly recommend that parents refrain from purchasing such animals as pets for children.

Prostitutes No Greater VD Risk, Asserts Gnaizda

The Acting State Health Director issued a statement last week condemning law enforcement's quarantining of prostitutes in jail without bond in the name of preventive health.

In a letter to county public health officials, Director Robert Gnaizda said, "There is no evidence available to the Department supporting the assumption that persons arrested for soliciting or engaging in acts of prostitution present a greater danger to public health than members of any other high risk group."

Gnaizda explained that the Health Department cannot support preventive health practices that are actually intended to achieve law enforcement objectives.

He contended that records show that the incidence of venereal disease among prostitutes is no greater than the occurrance of VD among sexually active persons in the general population.

Channel 6 station manager Marty Colby said "Sammy and Co." began taping this week. It will be aired simultaneously in San Diego, New York, Washington, Los Angeles and other metro areas.

NEW MINI-PARK — Workmen till the soil at the intersection of Jamacha blvd. and Huron st., site of a new Mini-Park paid for by gas tax funds under authorization of the County Board of Supervisors. The park is the result of a two-year effort put forth by the Spring Valley Woman's Club to beautify the parcel of land which has been a weed-covered eyesore for a number of years. The construction contract, let to Jennings Landscape Co., includes installation of trees, shrubs, irrigation provisions, sitting areas with benches, and concrete walkways. Also, a 20-foot square area has been set aside in which the club will plant flowers.

State School Board Declares War on Violence

The California School Boards Association has launched a campaign against violence on television and in motioin pictures. Initial action is a mailing to every school board member and superintendent in the state encouraging classroom instruction in selective viewing, urging parents to monitor the programs and films their children see, and to voice their objections to producers of violent material.

CSBA is asking schools and parents to protest to their local stations and to the major networks, sponsors, advertising agencies, the Federal Communications Commission and the National Association of Broadcasters.

"Television is usually the child's first teacher and has the potential to be a tremendous asset in the education of children," Joseph M. Brooks, executive secretary of CSBA said. "But, instead, the major message coming through the tube seems to be that violence is the way to get what you want."

54 Hours a Week

According to the Nielsen Television Index, preschoolers watch television an average of 54 hours a week. Children of school age spend more time in front of a TV set than they do in front of a teacher; in fact, they spend more time watching TV than any other type of walking activity in their lives.

"We cannot calculate the amount of damage constant exposure to tube and screen violence is doing to children," Brooks stated, "but the suspicion is that much of the increase of youthful crime and violence — the acting out of hostile and aggressive feelings children and teenagers have—can be attributed to the models provided on the screen."

Power of Suggestion

Several recent crimes have occurred shortly after and may have been suggested by scenes on certain television shows, Brooks said. He cited the throat-slashings in Los Angeles, the burning of a young woman in Boston, the taking of hostages in bank hold-ups around the country, and a San Francisco rape of a 9-year-old girl, patterned after a scene in a television show, "Born Innocent."

The Mexican government, he pointed out, "has banned 37 popular U.S. TV programs from showing in Mexico because of their high degree of violence, but we continue to expose our own children to them."

The School Board Association believes that, since broadcast stations are licensed to serve the public interest, the public should start exercising some influence over what is aired.

Brooks asserts that a mandate of the estimated 20 million people—students, parents and teachers—would far surpass similar protests made by isolated groups in the past.

CSBA is furnishing names and addresses of network officials, the top ten major teevee sponsors, advertising agencies, FCC, the National Association of Broadcasters, and movie companies to anyone who is interested in writing. A list may be obtained by writing the CSBA, 800 9th st., Suite 201, Sacramento, 95814.
